

Research Office At Radiology (ROAR)

The Research Office At Radiology (ROAR) provides central access to research project support for all radiology faculty, researchers, trainees, fellows and residents. Resources include assistance with study design, initiation of new research studies, support for research grants, budget and finance, as well as IRB & regulatory support.

Research Operations

The ROAR research operations team provides comprehensive clinical research support for the Department of Radiology's faculty and trainees. Available resources include project management and coordinator support, IRB submissions and regulatory oversight, as well as assistance with study design, statistics, and data management. For more information, please contact Crystal K. Santillanes.

Research Administration & Finance

The Research Administration and Finance Team assists Radiology faculty in their pursuit and management of external funding as they engage in clinical and translational research to benefit patients. The team oversees and manages all aspects of pre and post-award administration including proposal and budget preparation, compliance, financial management, and reporting. For more information, please contact Jessica Agosto.
